

THE UNITED STATES COURT SYSTEM

The Judicial Conference of the United States has approved the recommendations and implementation strategies in this long Range Plan to guide future administrative action and policy development by the Conference and other judicial branch authorities. All other text in this Plan, including commentary on individual recommendations and strategies, explains and supplements the approved items but does not necessarily reflect the views of the Conference.