

MAR - APR 2013

STRAIGHT TALK

"Under Capitalism man exploits man. Under Socialism the reverse is true."

– Polish Proverb

GOVERNMENT BY DIALECTIC

CAPITALISTS? SOCIALISTS? TWO SIDES OF THE SAME COIN.

It is called "the dialectic." It's the method the ultra-rich use to manipulate the minds of the populace.

Through state-sanctioned media outlets, like TV and radio, hired messengers introduce opposing viewpoints to the public. These viewpoints are concocted by the elite and passed down through the talking heads seen on TV (politicians, newsmen, economists and military leaders loyal to ruling families like the Rothschilds and Rockefellers).

Some media outlets are told to sell one viewpoint while other media outlets are told to sell an opposing viewpoint. The public listens to politicians and TV newsmen and then they obediently line up behind one or the other viewpoint so that two distinct parties (groups of followers) are formed. Controversy and animosity is fomented between them and the dialectic begins working its magic as the opposing sides become engrossed in argument and disagreement. Then, while the masses fight over the two viewpoints that were handed them for that very purpose, the elites remain above it all.

Then the elites introduce "solutions" that they claim will solve or ameliorate the disagreements between the opposing parties. The "solutions," of course, were planned from the beginning. The inattentive masses don't notice they've been manipulated and tricked into accepting the thoughts and prejudices the elite planned for them.

The following quote from World Order Kingpin and International Banking Godfather, David Rockefeller removes all doubt that this is happening. The quote is from the 1991 Bilderberg Meeting in Baden, Germany:

"We are grateful to the Washington Post, The New York Times, Time Magazine and other great publications whose directors have attended our meetings and respected their promises of discretion for almost forty years."

"It would have been impossible for us to develop our plan for the world if we had been subjected to the lights of publicity during those years. But, the world is now more sophisticated and prepared to march towards a world government. The supranational sovereignty of an intellectual elite and world bankers is surely preferable to the national auto-determination practiced in past centuries."

The three steps of this method (called "the dialectic") are 1. thesis; 2. antithesis; 3. synthesis. The "thesis" is the original viewpoint. The "antithesis" is the opposing viewpoint introduced to create an argument. As the two parties (followers of the two viewpoints) argue and struggle with each other, the elite rulers remain above it all, and skillfully guide the arguments so that a third viewpoint ... often a compromise ... is introduced. This third viewpoint (the so-called solution) is the "synthesis." This "synthesis" is the pre-planned objective that the elites wanted to achieve from the beginning. So, the ultra-rich elite introduce a problem (thesis), then introduce an opposing reaction (antithesis), and then they offer "the solution" (synthesis). Thus they control the entire struggle and thought process ... directing it to the result they had planned from the beginning.

At that point, the process "reboots," a new cycle begins with the newly accepted solution becoming the new beginning viewpoint (thesis) of a new cycle of dialectic. A new opposing reaction (antithesis) is also introduced, again forming two new opposing sides ... and the process moves forever forward resulting in new problems, reactions, and solutions. This dialectic cycle repeats itself over and over guiding the public mind down the predetermined path preordained by the ultra-rich elite who control the whole process. This process provides an endless matrix of mindless, fruitless struggle for the masses and enables the ultra-rich elite to always be in control and always possess most of the wealth of all nations.

CAPITALISM -VS- SOCIALISM

This ancient and proven method has been employed by rulers upon their subjects for centuries, and is certainly being used to control Americans today in what is called a democratic political process. People are given two prescribed choices of which they are allowed to choose one or the other. In America these two choices have been labelled “Democrat” and “Republican.” By extension, these two categories are often equated with two other labels: “Capitalist” and “Socialist.” The brainwashed Americans spend billions of dollars, great energy, and years of their lives wrangling with each other over these invented choices offered to them. What very few Americans have the common sense to realize is that it is all part of the method the elite employ to control them. Thus, Americans are, by-in-large, dupes and proud of it. While Americans expend themselves wrangling over meaningless arguments that they don’t even understand, the elite stand above it all and pull the strings ... and take control of the wealth, resources and lives of everyone.

So, what’s your pleasure? Capitalism or Socialism? What do you want to be? Republican or Democrat? Flip the coin, return to your corners and come out fighting.

The choices offered to you are two sides of the same poisoned coin. After thinking about this you may want to examine the coin before you choose either side. You may even want to reject the coin altogether, and look for better options based on better information. It is a shame to let yourself get caught up in meaningless, planned arguments that make you take your eyes off the prize while the ultra-rich walk away with it all. Patriots and churchgoers need to ask themselves whether they are thinking their own thoughts, or if their minds are being played by wizards behind curtains. I keep hoping that someday Americans will tire of following scripts handed to them by devils in pulpits and in Congress for the purpose of keeping them deceived and enslaved to impossible and nutty ideas. If, instead, they would invest a little time asking basic questions and using the minds God gave them, and spend time in sincere pursuit of what is actually taught in God’s Word they might per chance find a better way of thinking and a better life.

Who Runs The World? A Core Group Of Wealthy Elitists.

– by Michael Snyder

Does a shadowy group of obscenely wealthy elitists control the world? Do men and women with enormous amounts of money really run the world from behind the scenes?

The answer might surprise you. Most of us tend to think of money as a means to conduct transactions. But the truth is that in certain circles it represents power and control.

When I am talking about the ultra-wealthy, I am not talking about people that have a few million dollars. The ultra-wealthy have enough money to buy all of the goods and services produced in the United States during the course of an entire year and still be able to pay off the entire U.S. national debt. That is an amount of money so large that it is almost incomprehensible. Under this system, all the rest of us are debt slaves.

Just look around – the common folk are drowning in debt. And what they can’t fathom is that all of that debt translates to wealth for the top banking families. But the ultra-wealthy don’t just sit on all of that wealth. They use it to dominate the affairs of the nations. The ultra-wealthy own virtually every major bank and every major corporation on the planet. They use a vast network of secret societies, think tanks, and charitable organizations to advance their agendas and to keep their members in line. They control how we view the world through ownership of media and the education system. They fund the campaigns of most politicians and they exert a tremendous amount of influence over international organizations such as the United Nations, the IMF, the World Bank and the WTO.

When you step back and take a look at the big picture, there is little doubt about who runs the world. Most people, however, just cannot imagine how it all works.

The study estimating the extent of global private financial wealth of rich individuals and their families held, in offshore accounts (excluding non-financial assets such as real estate, gold, yachts and racehorses) puts the sum at between $21 and $32 trillion.

But as I mentioned previously, the global elite not only have a lot of money. They also own or control just about every major bank and every major corporation on the entire planet.

According to an outstanding NewScientist article, a study of more than 40,000 transnational corporations conducted by the Swiss Federal Institute of Technology in Zurich discovered that a very small core group of huge banks and giant predator corporations dominate the entire global economic system.

An analysis of the relationships between 43,000 transnational corporations has identified a relatively small group of companies, mainly banks, with disproportionate power over the global economy.

When the team further untangled the web of ownership, it found much of it tracked back to a “super-entity” of 147 even more tightly knit companies whose ownership was held by other members of the super-entity. These controlled 40 per cent of the total wealth in the network. “In effect, less than 1 per cent of the companies were able to control 40 per cent of the entire network,” says Glattfelder. Most were financial institutions. The top 20 included Barclays Bank, JPMorgan Chase & Co, and The Goldman Sachs Group.

The following are the top 25 banks and corporations at the heart of this “super-entity”. You will recognize many of the names on the list...

- | | |
|--------------------------------|------------------------------------|
| 1. Barclays plc | 14. Credit Suisse Group |
| 2. Capital Group Companies Inc | 15. Walton Enterprises LLC |
| 3. FMR Corporation | 16. Bank of New York Mellon Corp |
| 4. AXA | 17. Natixis |
| 5. State Street Corporation | 18. Goldman Sachs Group Inc |
| 6. JP Morgan Chase & Co | 19. T Rowe Price Group Inc |
| 7. Legal & General Group plc | 20. Legg Mason Inc |
| 8. Vanguard Group Inc | 21. Morgan Stanley |
| 9. UBS AG | 22. Mitsubishi UFJ Financial Group |
| 10. Merrill Lynch & Co Inc | 23. Northern Trust Corporation |
| 11. Wellington Management Co | 24. Société Générale |
| 12. Deutsche Bank AG | 25. Bank of America Corporation |
| 13. Franklin Resources Inc | |

The ultra-wealthy elite often hide behind layers and layers of ownership, but the truth is that thanks to interlocking corporate relationships, the elite basically control almost every Fortune 500 corporation.

The amount of power and control that this gives them is hard to describe.

Unfortunately, this same group of people have been running things for a very long time. For example, New York City Mayor John F. Hylan said the following during a speech all the way back in 1922.

“The real menace of our Republic is the invisible government, which like a giant octopus sprawls its slimy legs over our cities, states and nation. To depart from mere generalizations, let me say that at the head of this octopus are the Rockefeller-Standard Oil interests and a small group of powerful banking houses generally referred to as the international bankers. The little coterie of powerful international bankers virtually run the United States government for their own selfish purposes.

They practically control both parties, write political platforms, make cats paws of party leaders, use the leading men of private organizations, and resort to every device to place in nomination for high public office only such candidates as will be amenable to the dictates of corrupt big business.

These international bankers and Rockefeller-Standard Oil interests control the majority of the newspapers and magazines in this country. They use the columns of these papers to club into submission or drive out of office public officials who refuse to do the bidding of the powerful corrupt cliques which compose the invisible government. It operates under cover of a self-created screen [and] seizes our executive officers, legislative bodies, schools, courts, newspapers and every agency created for the public protection.”

These international bankers created the central banks of the world (including the Federal Reserve), and they use those central banks to get the governments of the world ensnared in endless cycles of debt from which there is no escape. Government debt is a way to “legitimately” take money from all of us, transfer it to the government, and then transfer it into the pockets of the ultra-wealthy.

Today, Barack Obama and almost all members of Congress absolutely refuse to criticize the Fed, but in the past there have been some brave members of Congress that have been willing to take a stand. For example, the following quote is from a speech that Congressman Louis T. McFadden delivered to the U.S.

House of Representatives on June 10, 1932.

“Mr. Chairman, we have in this country one of the most corrupt institutions the world has ever known. I refer to the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks. The Federal Reserve Board, a Government board, has cheated the Government of the United States and the people of the United States out of enough money to pay the national debt. This evil institution has impoverished and ruined the people of the United States, has bankrupted itself, and has practically bankrupted our Government. It has done this through the defects of the law under which it operates, through the maladministration of that law by the Federal Reserve Board, and through the corrupt practices of the moneyed vultures who control it.”

According to researchers that have looked into the ownership of the big Wall Street banks that dominate the Fed, the same names keep coming up over and over: the Rockefellers, the Rothschilds, the Warburgs, the Lazards, the Schiffs and the royal families of Europe.

But ultra-wealthy international bankers have not just done this kind of thing in the United States. Their goal was to create a global financial system that they would dominate and control. Just check out what Georgetown University history professor Carroll Quigley once wrote:

“The powers of financial capitalism had another far-reaching aim, nothing less than to create a world system of financial control in private hands able to dominate the political system of each country and the economy of the world as a whole. This system was to be controlled in a feudalist fashion by the central banks of the world acting in concert, by secret agreements arrived at in frequent private meetings and conferences. The apex of the system was to be the Bank for International Settlements in Basle, Switzerland, a private bank owned and controlled by the world’s central banks which were themselves private corporations.”

Sadly, most Americans have never even heard of the Bank for International Settlements, but it is at the very heart of the global financial system. The following is from Wikipedia:

“As an organization of central banks, the BIS seeks to make monetary policy more predictable and transparent among its 58 member central banks. While monetary policy is determined by each sovereign nation, it is subject to central and private banking scrutiny and potentially to speculation that affects foreign exchange rates and especially the fate of export economies. Failures to keep monetary policy in line with reality and make monetary reforms in time, preferably as a simultaneous policy among all 58 member banks and also involving the International Monetary Fund, have historically led to losses in the billions as banks try to maintain a policy using open market methods that have proven to be based on unrealistic assumptions.”

The ultra-wealthy have also played a major role in establishing other important international institutions such as the United Nations, the IMF, the World Bank and the WTO. In fact, the land for the United Nations headquarters in New York City was purchased and donated by John D. Rockefeller. The international bankers are openly “internationalists.”

The elite also dominate the education system in the United States. Over the years, the Rockefeller Foundation and other elitist organizations have poured massive amounts of money into Ivy League schools. Today, Ivy League schools are considered to be the standard against which all other colleges and universities in America are measured, and the last four U.S. presidents were educated at Ivy League schools.

The elite also exert a tremendous amount of influence through various secret societies (Skull and Bones, the Freemasons, etc.), through some very powerful think tanks and social clubs (the Council on Foreign Relations, the Trilateral Commission, the Bilderberg Group, the Bohemian Grove, Chatham House, etc.), and through a vast network of charities and non-governmental organizations (the Rockefeller Foundation, the Ford Foundation, the World Wildlife Fund, etc.).

They also have power over the media. Just six monolithic corporate giants control most of what we watch, hear and read every single day. These giant corporations own television networks, cable channels, movie studios, newspapers, magazines, publishing houses, music labels and even many of our favorite websites.

Considering the fact that the average American watches 153 hours of television a month (approximately 1/2 of our waking hours), the influence of these six giant corporations should not be underestimated. The following are just some of the media companies that these corporate giants own...

Time Warner	MTV
Home Box Office (HBO)	MTV Canada
Time Inc.	MTV2
Turner Broadcasting	Nick Magazine
Warner Bros.	Nick at Nite
CW Network	Nick Jr.
TMZ	Nickelodeon
New Line Cinema	Noggin
Time Warner Cable	Spike TV
Cinemax	The Movie Channel
Cartoon Network	TV Land
TBS	VH1
TNT	News Corporation
America Online	Dow Jones & Company, Inc.
MapQuest	Fox Television Stations
Moviefone	The New York Post
Castle Rock	Fox Searchlight Pictures
Sports Illustrated	Beliefnet
Fortune	Fox Business Network
Marie Claire	Fox Kids Europe
People Magazine	Fox News Channel
Walt Disney	Fox Sports Net
ABC Television Network	Fox Television Network
Disney Publishing	FX
ESPN Inc.	My Network TV
Disney Channel	MySpace
SOAPnet	News Limited News
A&E	Phoenix InfoNews Channel
Lifetime	Phoenix Movies Channel
Buena Vista	Sky PerfecTV
Disney Records	Speed Channel
Hollywood Records	STAR TV India
Miramax Films	STAR TV Taiwan
Touchstone Pictures	STAR World
Walt Disney Pictures	Times Magazine
Pixar Animation Studios	Times Supplement Magazine
Buena Vista Games	Times of London
Hyperion Books	20th Century Fox
Viacom	SkyB
Paramount Pictures	DIRECTV
Paramount Entertainment	The Wall Street Journal
Black Entertainment	Fox Broadcasting Company
Comedy Central	Fox Interactive Media
Country Music Television	FOXTEL
Logo	HarperCollins Publishers

The National Geographic Channel
 National Rugby League
 News Interactive
 News Outdoor
 Radio Veronica
 ReganBooks
 Sky Italia
 Sky Radio Denmark
 Sky Radio Germany
 Sky Radio Netherlands
 STAR
 Zondervan
CBS Corporation
 CBS News
 CBS Sports
 CBS Television
 CNET
 Showtime
 TV.com
 CBS

CW Network
 Infinity Broadcasting
 Simon & Schuster
 Westwood One
NBC Universal
 Bravo
 CNBC
 NBC
 Oxygen
 SciFi Magazine
 Syfy
 Telemundo
 USA Network
 Weather Channel
 Focus Features
 NBC Universal
 Paxson Communications
 Trio
 Universal Parks & Resorts
 Universal Pictures

And of course the elite own most of our politicians as well. The following is a quote from journalist Lewis Lapham:

“The shaping of the will of Congress and the choosing of the American president has become a privilege reserved to the country’s equestrian classes, a.k.a. the 20% of the population that holds 93% of the wealth, the happy few who run the corporations and the banks, own and operate the news and entertainment media, compose the laws and govern the universities, control the philanthropic foundations, the policy institutes, the casinos, and the sports arenas.”

Have you ever wondered why things never seem to change in Washington D.C. no matter who we vote for? Well, it is because both parties are owned by the establishment.

It would be nice to think that the American people are in control of who runs things in the U.S., but that is not how it works in the real world. In the real world, the politician that raises more money wins more than 80 percent of the time.

Our politicians are not stupid – they cater to the ultra-wealthy and the giant corporations they control.

Are you starting to get the picture?

There is a reason why the ultra-wealthy are referred to as “the establishment”. They pull the strings.

So who runs the world?

They do. In fact, they even admit as much.

David Rockefeller wrote the following in his 2003 book entitled “Memoirs”:

“For more than a century, ideological extremists at either end of the political spectrum have seized upon well-publicized incidents such as my encounter with Castro to attack the Rockefeller family for the inordinate influence they claim we wield over American political and economic institutions. Some even believe we are part of a secret cabal working against the best interests of the United States, characterizing my family and me as ‘internationalists’ and of conspiring with others around the world to build a more integrated global political and economic structure — one world, if you will. If that is the charge, I stand guilty, and I am proud of it.”

There is so much more that could be said about all of this. But hopefully this is enough to at least get some conversations started.