

SHADOW AND SUBSTANCE:

SPOTTING PROPAGANDA....and SPOTTING THE FREEDOM IT INADVERTANTLY DISCLOSES

By Free-Inhabitant Dave

“You unlock this door with the key of imagination. Beyond it is another dimension - a dimension of sound, a dimension of sight, a dimension of mind. You're moving into a land of both shadow and substance, of things and ideas. You've just crossed over into the Twilight Zone.”

Here's a fun test. I attached a piece that appears at www.bankrate.com (in BLUE below). Just quickly scan it and come back.

OK...you're back. It appears innocuous and innocent-enough...just a bank giving tax tips. But take notice of key words and implications and you can “unlock this door” to reveal actually a classic propaganda-piece of government --cleverly using dimensions of sight and mind.

We'll use this for an example of TRAINING your mind to spot things—you need to move your mind from the dimension of control to that of truth and freedom. This takes just a little imagination:

1. SHADOW: First, although this purports to come from a bank, train your mind to spot the subtle but “heavy-hand” of government propoganda. Can you see “the Shadow” lurking? He’s “moving” you to the territorial “land”. In this case the “inspiration” for this piece is probably courtesy of IRS “Public Information Officers”. [Yes...that title is REAL! Just like the Nazi Germany office of Propaganda with a similar name!] I wager this piece was nearly “handed” to this bank-writer via some form of IRS release to banking institutions. (Hint: The devil always solicits others in deception; those good at propoganda use institutions of authority.) And...just like the Star Wars “Old Jedi Mind Trick”, those with weak untrained minds fall victim to the altered dimensional ideas the propogandists create.
2. SUBSTANCE: In the zeal to make propoganda though, many things of substance and truth are overlooked by those creating the propoganda. Sometimes the worst fear of the propogandists is so much “on the mind” that it gets released in revelation. A little story: In the cold-war days, the USSR produced a communist-propoganda film exposing the supposed decadence of American society. Illustrated were greedy Americans living in a society of consumption and no morality. In spite of all the work, the film backfired! Why? It ALSO showed truth! Nearly all Americans were shown as having two-car families. (In the USSR only the government officials and privileged were entitled to cars.). The point: Many times propoganda inadvertently discloses things! The trick thus is to learn to spot the disclosures.

Here's a FUN test. This piece is LOADED with disclosures of weaknesses and revelations for freedom !! Let's see if you can spot them all. Now re-read the piece KNOWING it is propoganda and KNOWING it gives hints to freedom. This is the key of imagination. At the end in GREEN, I will disclose how many things I found.

TAX TIP No. 73

Name and Social Security number coordination

By Kay Bell • Bankrate.com

A mismatch between a name and a Social Security number on a tax return could mean costly problems.

At best, it could slow down a refund. At worst, it could unexpectedly increase a tax bill. That's why it's critical to make sure you:

- Have a Social Security number for everyone listed on a return -- you, your spouse, children and any other dependents you claim.
- Enter those numbers correctly and, if you're filing on paper, legibly.

A couple of years ago, the Internal Revenue Service stopped putting taxpayer Social Security numbers on the tax package labels. Privacy advocates were concerned that this information could be too easily used by others.

Unfortunately, the IRS found that removing it also meant that taxpayers forgot to write in their identification numbers on their tax returns. So it's now up to you to fill in your Social Security number, as well as any others required on your return and associated schedules.

Marital mismatches

These numbers are particularly important for the recently married or divorced.

The IRS urges newlyweds, when the bride takes the husband's surname, to let the Social Security Administration know about the name change. If the couple files a joint tax return with her new name, IRS computers will not be able to match the new name with the number until the SSA is notified.

Similarly, the IRS warns, a woman who reassumes her maiden name after a divorce needs to make that change known to Social Security officials.

Nine critical digits

Why such concern over nine digits? Because there are so many transactions -- income statements, savings account interest, retirement plan contributions -- that are keyed to this number.

The identification numbers also are vital when the IRS checks any tax credits you apply for, such as the popular child and additional child tax credits, as well as tax breaks for educational expenses and dependent care.

If your kids don't have their Social Security numbers yet, contact the Social Security Administration immediately to obtain them. If you need to let Uncle Sam know of a name change, file Form SS-5, available on the agency's Web site. You also can request a form by calling (800) 772-1213 or pick one up at a local Social Security office. It usually takes two weeks to have the change verified.

-- Updated: April 12, 2007

.....

OK—Here is what I found! (Words in “quotes” are key words to spot from the piece above.):

- Do people who follow the teachings of Christ “coordinate” a name....with an “identification number”?
- Are the “costly problems” REALLY about you...as cleverly implied via propaganda...or about and for the IRS?
- What REALLY led to the “costly problem”...a name...or no number?
- Neglect the fact it talks of returns for one moment. Choose only one: How does the IRS REALLY talk to you...by name or number?
- If it's “up to you to fill-in your SS Number”, is that something of a mandatory nature?
- Can IRS computers MATCH names and numbers without your help?
- “Marital Mismatches”: Who gets “mixed-up”? Those that marry as implied...or the IRS?
- Can IRS computers match names and numbers of newly married people without “SSA notification” by the parties involved?
- Are the SSA and IRS linked in numbering people?
- For newly divorced, can the IRS match numbers to a maiden name without the divorced parties help?
- Are “nine critical digits” critical to you as human...or the machinery of government in enslaving people? [This is the BEST revelation inadvertently leaked in the piece: They are CRITICAL...what a DISCLOSURE!!]
- Do you want a number that “keys” all transactions of yours?
- Who is REALLY “concerned over nine digits”...you...or the IRS?
- To whom are the numbers REALLY “vital”?
- Did God number his children? Why would you “immediately” number yours? What happens if you wait or never number?
- Why would you “need” to let an “uncle” who is not your relative know of a name change?
- Why would you care if this non-relative “verified” your change?
- Is this “Uncle” a benefactor as implied? Was it coincidental that “uncle” was used in the same paragraph as SSA...and “kids”? [Isn't that sweet...it's the nice Uncle coming to help the kids with their immediate numbering!]

- Does the IRS/SSA want you as a customer...when it advertises its numbers, website, and applications-for-account numbers?
- Spotting propaganda and it's REAL source: Why would a bank take the time and effort to write a piece about the IRS?

Lastly....One thing you will never see: ANY government advertising freedom. So stop looking for it...there is no salvation in ANYTHING of government...or government's words or authority. [Only Jesus' words provide salvation!] However, as this piece illustrates, usurpers INADVERTANTLY disclose ways to freedom [and their own weaknesses] in their enthusiasm to ensnare with propaganda.

Yours in freedom,

Dave